Four Attend Aviation Seminar

A Michigan Industrial Aviation Seminar was held at Union High School in Grand Rapids on Tuesday, March 23, and was sponsored by Michigan Department of Commerce, the Aeronautics Commission and Office of Economic Expansion.

Attending the seminar from here were: Arnie Maanen, chairman of the Grayling Airport Board; J. P. McCarthy, pilot at Dick Donnar of Grayling Air, Inc. and Jim Knight, pilot at Grayling Airport, who flew the group to Grand Rapids and back.

The Michigan Department of Commerce, through its Aeronautics Commission and Office of Economic Expansion, is acutely aware of the importance of rapid, economical and dependable transportation in the economic growth of a geographical area.

Every portion of the state is served today by transportation networks suitable for use by trucks, boats and trains; however, these modes of transportation have been established for some time with well developed facilities at the point of origin and destination. Their means of communicating are established and are relatively free from interference by climatic changes.

Industry must be able to get products out and materials in, in the shortest possible time. Salesmen and executives must reduce the amount of time between meetings to maintain their efficiency, and an adequate community airport is as necessary today as the bus depot or train station was yesterday. To accomplish this, more and more corporations are flying their own planes.

Tourists are extending vacations by flying to resort areas and retail merchants are better served by salesmen who can fly in and also deliver new stocks of merchandise.

The Office of Economic Expansion and the Aeronautics Commission took this opportunity to inform community leaders and officials of the current status of aviation in Michigan, the economic opportunities a well equipped airport can provide, and the governmental assistance available to progressive areas, was the purpose of the seminar.

Further information is available at the Grayling City Hall 517-348-2131.

Dedication Memorial Day

Memorial To Veterans

By Eleanor F.ley

Grayling Post No. 106, American Legion with the cooperation of the V.F.W., Chamber of Commerce, Board of Commissioners, and the City Council is sponsoring the erection of a memorial to all veterans of Crawford County.

The memorial has been ordered and will be placed in the front of the Crawford County Court House directly in front of the flag pole. It will stand six feet two inches tall. On the top will be a 24 inch "Flame of Freedom."

Dedication is being planned for Memorial Day, May 30th, 1971 in conjunction with the annual Memorial Day Parade. A number of state and local officials are expected to attend the dedication.

The Grayling Post along with the other organizations are working together to make the memorial a community project in memory of the veterans of all the wars. It is only one way we, as Americans, can show our appreciation for all they have given so that we may live in this great country.

The committee appointed to handle "Memorial to all Veterans" are hard at work and will keep the community posted on the progress being made, include:

Commander Jack Rasmussen, chairman, American Legion; Vice Commander Jack Mead, vice chairman, American Legion; Kenneth Wixson, maintenance, American Legion; Harvey Bourque, fund raising, V.F.W.; Larry Gust, finance, Board of Commissioners; Robert Golinick, finance, City Council, and Albert Westervelt, public relations, Chamber of Commerce.

Contributions may be made to help with the construction and maintenance of the "Memorial To All Veterans" by mailing a check to "Memorial To All Veterans" Fund, c/o Larry Gust, 709 Michigan Avenue, Grayling, Mich. or Robert Golinick, 605 Clyde Street, Grayling, Mich. 49738.

More than 2,500 facilities and services financed from Easter Seal contributions are giving help where needed. They provide the medical diagnosis, physical, occupational and speech therapies, special educational, recreational and social services, sheltered employment and other care and treatment that crippled children and adults require to walk, talk and live like others.

Handicapped adults who need vocational rehabilitation in order to hold useful jobs often require the combined talents of specialists in the areas of medicine, social work, physical and occupational therapy, counseling and selected placement. The Easter Seal Society provides this care through finances by contributions to the Easter Seal Campaign March 1 to April 11.

Roscommon Plant Tries 4 Day Week

The Roscommon Division of Hancock Industries Inc., are presently experimenting with a 4 day, 40 hour work week.

At the request of the employees, the plant changed to a 10 hour day, 4 day work week for 1 month, to see how this would work out. The change went into effect on March 1 with the end of the month being April 2. It was voted by the employees, 76 for and 5 against to try this experiment.

At the end of the experiment the employees will again vote to decide whether they wish to continue or discontinue the new work week. It was agreed that either the management or the employees can discontinue this experiment.

The experiment was first suggested quite some time ago by one of the employees. About 4 months was put into study before this was tried out. Hancock employs about 92 persons, 70% of them being women, and during peak employment has about 170 employees.

There are 2 shifts. The day shift goes to work at 6 a.m. till 3:30 p.m., Monday thru Thursday. The night shift works from 3:45 p.m. till 3:15 a.m. Tuesday thru Friday, thus keeping to a 5 day work week.

On a lonely hill a man died slowly, nailed to a cross.

His crime—goodness.

He walked the hills of Judea and the shores of Gallilee, healing and comforting, loving everyone He met. Confidently, simply, He spoke of the Kingdom of Heaven, and crowds hurried to hear His vital words.

To some, His clear, sure talk of the Kingdom and the Way and of Himself the Son of God seemed a threat. And so He suffered on a cross, while a faithful few huddled in its shade and wept at the sacrifice.

Today, the shadow of that cross circles the globe, as people gather in churches around the world to remember that first Good Friday and give thanks for Jesus, the gift of a loving Father. His life and death and resurrection point the way for every man to find joy in the reality of God's love.

In Your Lifetime

"We want to wipe out cancer in your lifetime." That is the theme of the American Cancer Society's April Crusade. There are volumes behind those nine words. The trend in the medical attack on cancer gives reason for hope.

In the late thirties, for example, fewer than one in five cancer patients was being saved. The following decade it was one of four. And today one of three hit by cancer is saved.

With knowledge now available, sober medical and scientific opinion holds one of two cancer patients could be saved providing detection and treatment come in time.

The advances in the treatment of cancer have come from research and improvement of surgical and radiation therapy. In some instances, drugs have been effective against certain types of cancer.

But there can be little difference of opinion about what is needed for the final conquest of this ancient enemy of mankind. The scientific battles have to be broadened and stepped up. This means more money for brain power and manpower, more money for equipment and facilities.

When an ACS volunteer comes to your home in April, remember the goal: "We want to wipe out cancer in your lifetime."

A Public Need

The righteousness of legislators who jump on every consumer protection bandwagon that comes along is more than a little tiresome just as is their holier-than-thou concern with honesty. Some of the most notorious protectors are the most hypocritical. Even while they talk of protecting the consumer in one breath they will, in the next breath, advocate greater and greater public spending, greater deficits and more new and costly government programs to "help" the people. They say nothing of the confiscatory taxes that must inevitably follow in the wake of these spending sprees. Why say anything about it? Chances are the bill will come due after they have retired from office and long since quit preaching honesty and "consumer protection."

What the public needs right now is fewer crusades for laws to make private citizens honest and more action towards saving the substance of life from the legislative do-gooders and the tax collector.

Senator Griffin

Introduces Federal Aid Bill To Complete College Education

WASHINGTON, D.C. — An additional one million college students could receive needed federal assistance to complete their education under legislation co-sponsored by U.S. Senator Robert P. Griffin (R-Mich.).

Griffin said the bill — the Higher Education Opportunity Act of 1971 — "would make it possible for every qualified student, regardless of economic status, to have the necessary financial assistance to go to college."

The Senate's Assistant Republican leader said he believes it is a "fundamental right" of each American to receive an education — including a college education if he has the aptitude and intelligence.

When he served in the House of Representatives, Senator Griffin co-authored the National Defense Student Loan program which has benefited some two and three-quarter million students since it became law in 1955.

"Now, additional steps are needed to make sure that no qualified student is denied an education because he happens to be poor," Griffin asserted.

The new legislation would authorize the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to provide a program of grants, work study payments, subsidized loans and loan guarantees to assist qualified students.

Under the proposed Higher Education Opportunity Act of 1971, Griffin said, the National Defense Student Loan revolving fund would continue in its present form.

"Although new federal money would not be added to that fund, it is estimated that an additional $1 billion for both subsidized loans and guaranteed loans would be made available from non-government sources through the creation of a new National Student Loan Association," Griffin said.

"Living on a budget is the same as living beyond your means except that you have a record of it."

SUNDAY'S SERMON

SUCCESS

Life is often referred to as a "give and take" proposition. Let us grant that some individuals have more than their share of the "take" or instinct. These are the people who approach everything with the "What's in it for me" attitude—never with the simple offer to lend a helping hand to some job that needs doing.

It is also said that success is "relative." A man who has done well in business and in life, may be considered a success by his contemporaries. In truth, he may be far from satisfied, and feel that he still has a long way to go to achieve his personal dreams and ambitions.

But, for most of us, one thing about success is sure. Our happiness with whatever we do must relate to the manner in which it is done. Success is a matter of achievement, a matter of winning. Sometimes the very manner in which success is attained can make it less precious, less valuable, less satisfying.

If we build success on the "take" principle, we will likely find few friends about to offer congratulations or to salute the achievement.

Change in Exemptions

Every taxpayer will receive a tax benefit this year due to changes in the area of personal and dependency exemptions. The exemption for a taxpayer and each of his dependents has been increased to $625 for 1970. There will be additional graduated increases in the exemption allowance in 1971, 1972, and 1973. When the changes are fully implemented in 1973, each exemption will have a value of $750.

Foster parents will find that the new tax law also includes a provision in the exemption area designed especially in consideration of their interests. If certain requirements are met they may claim a dependency exemption for a foster child on the same basis as for blood-related or adopted children.

The law requires that the child must have as his principal place of abode the home of the taxpayer and must be a member of the taxpayer's household for the entire year. Thus, a foster child may have gross income in excess of $625 for a year, if the child is less than 19 years old or is a student, without the parents losing the dependency exemption for the child, provided they furnished more than one-half of the foster child's support. Previously such a foster child could not qualify as a dependent even though all other dependency requirements were met.

A foster child is defined as one in the care of someone other than natural or adopted parents who cares for the child as his own.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

Parents And Children
A most common complaint of teenagers is that parents "don't think I am old enough to take care of myself."

How often do parents face this comment when they attempt to stop a child from traveling with the wrong kind of companions, when they refuse to permit them to go "where everybody else is going," when they refuse permission to date or go "steady" at a very tender age?

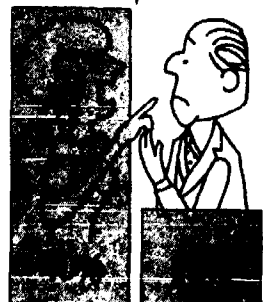

Life can be easy for the parent who provides food, clothing, a place to sleep—and no interference to the "personal" lives of their offspring. Easy now—but the heartaches come later.

How many times have you heard a parent in distress raise arms skyward and ask, "Where, oh where did I go wrong?" How many times have you, as an interested observer, known full-well the answer, but dared not speak a word?

Growing up is an up and down proposition, like a roller coaster, with many highs and lows. Most often, when children need help the most, the faster they fly to escape the voice of authority and experience. The parents who lose are those who stand aside with the idea that things will turn out all right tomorrow.

Parental love and guidance is the answer. Children may not recognize it for what it is—until some long, distant tomorrow when things have turned out well.

Jack Pine's Stump

There was a fire on the South Branch early Friday morning, and a building burned to the ground. It probably wasn't too important to most people, but it was to me. And it wasn't even my building. But it used to be. And before that it belonged to our family. It had had a "Heep 'O Livin'" in its time, been witness to the deliberations of the great and near-great, rocked to laughter and happiness and offered its comforting quiet in times of great loss. Fishing, business and gin rummy were talked about and conducted in front of the matched field stone fireplace, and within the building were fine books, pictures and antiques given by those who knew and loved the place. When I left it, the building was a true home, where were gathered together such diverse things as a US Army horse bell, an Indian stone ax and a small ceramic cocker spaniel made by a child.

That building was built in 1929 for my parents by a very talented man named Tom Brooks. I was around seven years old when it was first used. And I don't remember too much about those early days. Flashes of memory only. Like how they used to hang the furniture from the rafters in the winter to keep the mice or high water from getting to it. I never knew why they did that, but some of my earliest recollections are of a building with furniture suspended from the ceiling. Rather unnerving when you are seven years old. And there was one March night we came to "The Cabin" — just my dad and I — and it turned cold and we had a lot of snow. The fireplace was used for warmth and for cooking. And my dad melted snow in a great pot which hung in the fireplace and cooked corned beef hash and eggs over the same fire. He loved it and cooked it well. And we had a lot of it for two days.

kitchen and small dining room. The kitchen was always more fun. People going through the place for the first time were afraid of getting lost, but I knew it inch by inch and on my nightly checks, when it stood there alone and vacant, could walk through it without using any lights. Nothing fit in that old Michigan white pine log building. The doors were all hand made and the windows too. So were the screens. When we closed in the porch a few years ago Don Kangas had an awful time making the aluminum sash thermopane windows fit the weird contours of the openings. But he did a good job.

Progress tried to affect "The Cabin", as we called it, and after the war such things as furnaces, 220 volt REA power and telephones were installed. The building just shuddered a bit more, put up with the holes and the hammering and the wires — but it didn't change. The years of accumulated sparrow shit had turned the logs black on the outside, and dark orange on the inside. So it was all carefully scraped off. Clear Creosote every two years on the outside and two coats of satin finish varnish on the inside. It grew in majesty and dignity — a fitting companion to the towering white pine which surrounded it. When my dad died the building seemed to die. We kept it up, of course, but it was different. As the years passed we opened its doors to many people, and they loved it. It's crazy interior decorating and non-matching color schemes would drive a professional decorator up the walls. But everyone else liked it, from its old fashioned slope back chair and deer horn footstool to the modern kitchen with the hand-made three legged stools which presented a hazard all of their own.

People ask me if I am going down to look at the place now. No, I don't think so. I'm afraid too many memories of happy Christmases would come back. And I am afraid that when I glanced from the great heart-shaped stone, my sentimental dad had put in the center of the fireplace to the ashes on the ground that I would kick up a brass plate I had nailed to the front door many years ago. It read, "Enjoy yourself; it's later than you think."

BITS O' TALK

Mr. and Mrs. Max Clark returned home Saturday after spending the winter in Florida. They have purchased a home in Nokomis, Fla. and intend to spend their winters there.

Now Open — Crawford County TV Sales and Service at 120 Michigan Ave. Phone 348-8513. Ray, manager, Bob, service technician.

Mrs. Bert Confer received word last week that her uncle, Roy Struble, of Santa Cruz, Calif. had passed away. He was born in Chicago in 1888 and came to Michigan with his parents, the late Dr. John and Sarah Struble, soon after 1900. He and his wife moved to Santa Cruz from Hot Springs, Ark. about 25 years ago. He is survived by his wife, Lena Mae; two nieces, Ruth Confer of Grayling and Evelyn Fraser of Roscommon; and a nephew, Lee Heidemann of Temple, Arizona.

Grayling Restaurant will be closed from April 5 thru Friday, April 16th.

Mrs. William Laurent of Lake Margrethe and her mother, Mrs. Blanche Azelton of Beaver Creek returned home last Monday from a trip to San Diego, Calif. They spent 10 days sight-seeing and visiting Mrs. Laurent's son, Robert Miller. They attended his graduation from Marine Corp. basic training on March 18 and he is now stationed at Camp Pendleton, Calif. for several months. Mrs. Laurent's daughters, Debbie and Buck Farmer of Gaylord, and Connie Card and son, Jon of Flint were visitors this past weekend at the Laurent home.

MOOSE CALL

The lodge members should take the time to come in and see the transformation of the club's appearance. Bill Gallagher, Marvin Forbes, and Robert Welch spent the full day to dress up your club. We have a complete new bar top with all the trimmings. Thanks to these men and the donor of the material, Bud Taylor.

Don't forget the Fish Fry Friday night, starting at 5 p.m. until 9 p.m., put on by Art Howe's generosity. $1.25 for adults and 75c for children. All proceeds go to help the remodeling of our lodge.

Don't forget that we have live music Saturday night, April 3, starting at 9 p.m. Everyone will be happy to know we have the Northerners back. These are the boys that sent us on our way in the wonderful 60's. So come out and welcome them back. And don't forget to request the song; "It's Been A Long, Long Time", and then for an encore ask them to play, "It Seems Like Old Times."

We appreciate all the help and comments that keep our club alive. I'll see you all Saturday night at 9 p.m. and maybe I can bring that hillbilly, Jim Love and his guitar with me. Everyone remember this: There is never a man that stood so tall, until he stooped to help a child. I'll be seeing you.

Library News

Crawford County Library has a new and very unique book. There is truly but one copy in existence. The title is "Grayling and Crawford County History and Miscellanea."

This book is a collection of stories, records and accounts as they were written in past years by residents of our county. Some are by real "oldtimers", and some have been written by people living here now who recall stories of the past. The material makes up the best history of our area that is available. It is the story of Crawford County in the last century as told by its people.

Our librarians, Mrs. Souders and Mrs. Wedge have done this fine piece of work. The idea of compiling this material from old copies of the Avalanche and other publications is theirs. Mrs. Wedge did the typing and they have had it bound into a beautiful book — Volume I. Now they are working on Volume II, for there is much more that is of value and interest.

If anyone has an interesting story or account of an early settler's life here, or a record of one of our churches or organizations that they would like to share with the public, the librarians will be happy to receive it. They will copy it just as it is given to them, and return your copy safely to you. In this way interesting and valuable information can be preserved for future generations to use and enjoy.

Mrs. Souders and Mrs. Wedge are to be commended for this project. It is a fine contribution. They hope that many will want to see the book and enjoy reading it along with other volumes that they are now planning. Since there is only one copy of this book, it cannot be taken out of the library.

"If It Fittz..."

Sorry, I don't care

By Jim Fitzgerald

The $20 million hoopla over the Ali-Frazier prizefight reminded me again of an important freedom.

That is the freedom to not give a damn.

It seemed the whole world was turned on by that fight. It was broadcast live on TV in Yugoslavia at 4 o'clock in the morning, for Lord's sake. People actually paid hundreds of bucks each for seats near the ring where those 2 brutes belted each other. Incredible.

I've never been to a horse race because I'm not convinced the horses enjoy it. I've never shot a deer because I've never been attacked by a deer. I've never owned a snowmobile because they make sense only when you want to go where a warm car won't go and I've never wanted to go there.

So I can relax and sip my tea when the boys get in terrific hassles over such earth-shaking questions as:

1. Should racetracks be run by guys who belong to the Mafia according to testimony given before Congressional investigating committees? (Such testimony never leads to arrests because Efram Zimbalist Jr doesn't attend Congressional hearings for fear of bombs).

2. Is it right for greedy, brutal hunters to kill female deer, thus preventing does from spawning bucks to be "harvested" by nice blue-eyed guys who go hunting simply to enjoy the fresh air — but come home angry if they haven't shot anything bigger than a squirrel?

3. Should 2-year-old children be allowed to drive their snowmobiles alone across freeways after 10 p.m. or should it be required that they tow a sled carrying 2 people whose combined ages add up to at least 12?

It is arguments like those that make me the world's champion coast-holder. I couldn't care less. Of course, I figure I'm holding coats for a bunch of idiots but... to each his own. If I owned a snowmobile, a deer rifle and a season's pass to the racetrack I'd trade all three for a quiet weekend of good reading and indoor sinning.

So it was with me and Muhammed Ali and Joe Frazier. There is no more stupid activity than 2 men beating on each other until 1 of them falls unconscious. It is not a sport. It is the old Lions-vs-the-Christians scene with the drooling Romans jamming the coliseum in search of blood. It's ambulance chasing made profitable.

I don't blame Muhammed and Joe and their promoters for cashing in on the modern Romans. If they didn't, someone else would.

But the biggest thing wrong with this world is that people won't stop killing people. So go tell your kid that violence is wrong and stupid. And then tell him how you paid $100 to watch 2 guys slug each other. Tell your kid how you sat so near the fighters you got splattered with their blood.

Don't ask me for all the wise answers.

But also, when you and he are fighting, don't ask me to give up my freedom to not give a damn who wins.

Almanack

by Richard L. Milliman

Barefoot Through The Potpourri

It's time once more to stroll barefoot through the political potpourri. To wit:

Do Democrats have more fun? Or does it just seem that way?

To a young high school senior from Minnesota, who spent a week on Washington's Capitol Hill as part of a congressional program recently, Democrats at any rate are more with it than their political opponents.

Said young Alan Hale, reflecting on his Washington experience:

"The Democrats wore colored shirts, large, double Windsor knot ties, longer hair, and sideburns.

"Republicans wore white shirts, smaller knots in their ties, shorter hair, and no sideburns."

It appears from young Mr. Hale's observations that the Democrats are really pursuing in earnest the quest for the youth vote.

What ever happens to old vice presidential candidates?

In at least one instance, they go back to their hometown law practice, and spend more time with their families.

That was one point of a recently printed interview with William E. Miller (remember him?) who went back to Lockport, N.Y., after his fling as a vice presidential candidate on the Republican ticket with Sen. Barry Goldwater back in 1964.

The Miller interview also contains some interesting insight into the role of a vice president. Quoth the man who almost got there (well, at least he was nominated by one of our major parties):

"The role of the vice president must be determined by the president. I do not know what role Barry Goldwater would have decided for me.

"No vice president goes out and does anything without substantial approval from the president. The president does not cross every 't', dot every 'i' and period every sentence, but what the vice president says is prescribed pretty much by the president."

Coming from a former long time congressman, a former Republican national chairman, and a former vice presidential candidate, these thoughts might be kept in mind the next time Mr. Agnew makes the headlines in a big way and Mr. Nixon contends that Spiro after all is his own man and is off again on his own.

The suffering Michigan taxpayers have not heard the last of attempts within the Michigan legislature to upgrade the tools of the lawmakers' trade.

Besides the frustrated dental care plan, and a half-hearted attempt to establish hometown offices for the legislators, things are pretty quiet right now. But we can safely predict it won't last.

How far will the legislative desire for upgrading the job finally extend? A recent statement by one of the top legislative leaders seems to bear out The Almanack's earlier contention that the style of a United States Congressman seems to be the style to which some Michigan legislators would like to become accustomed.

Sen. Coleman Young, the Democratic leader of the state senate and Democratic national committeeman from Michigan, recently offered this view:

"I represent exactly one-half the number of people a congressman does. I have probably one fifteenth of the staff, make less than half the pay, and in terms of expenses, I'm probably one-one hundredth of a congressman.

"You've got to have the tools to do the job. Look, in California, legislators get home district offices, cars, drivers and gas cards, to boot."

Sen Young seems to have outlined the goal for those who push for more and more perquisites of office for Michigan legislators.

The more you think about it, the better the idea for a unicameral or one-chamber system of state legislation, with only a fraction of the number of today's lawmakers, begins to sound.

Impressions of Mexico

Northern Neighbors Discover Enchantment

By Pat Dudgeon

THIS IS MEXICO ... Guanajuato, Leon, some 200 miles northwest of Mexico City, spreading across the hillside and valley floor, is one of thousands of towns and cities being discovered by American tourists in Mexico.

Mexico—a whole new world right below the U.S.A. Attached to California, Arizona and Texas, just as if it were another state, is Mexico. A genuine land of enchantment and mystery. Rich in history and with her eyes to progressive future, our Southern neighbor deserves a closer look.

The seeds of civilization are thought to have taken root around 1500 B.C. in and around what we now know as Mexico and Central America. Beginning then the primitive man gradually gave up his hazardous occupation of hunting and gave more attention to the soil. Since that time Mexico has moved from the primitive stage to a growing, progressive, semi-industrial nation of the 20th Century.

Modern day communication and travel have brought our friendly neighbor closer than ever. Mexico's history is marked in most minds with its sixteenth-century conquest by the Spanish and later the Texas Revolution and the Mexican War led by General Santa Anna. Before the adventures of Spain came though there existed an ancient, proud and mighty empire in Mexico. This mighty civilization was tragically subdued by the foreign invader. And thus began the Mexican people as we know them—a mixture of Spaniard and Indian. In many regions of Mexico today there remain old Indian influences, habits, customs, etc.—in the remote areas where the Spaniard dared not go and where modern day civilization as we know it yet has no influence.

Mexico is composed of many different tribes and is geographically divided into states like our own country. All areas are fairly easily reached and as for the people—plain English with a Spanish accent will get you just about anywhere. It is a thrilling experience to travel Mexico. It is so near to our way of life, yet in many, many ways, so different. It adjoins our borders, yet seems so far away. The Mexican is a totally different type person, with marked differences in his way of thinking. Most evident is the Mexican philosophy of "manjano" or tomorrow. Time often seems of little consequence to the average Mexican—in sharp contrast to our often-hurried way of life. There is an emerging middle class, however, and as more goods are made available, more interest is shown in advancing one's materialistic wealth. There is, too, widespread poverty and a very unequal distribution of wealth at present. Democracy, modeled after our own form of government, is working in Mexico though many discontents often force the government into repressive periods.

Our neighbors to the South, then, are very interesting to observe. They have a very rich country, abundant in resources, and are a proud people, rich in history and tradition. They are seeking progress, while attempting to retain their centuries-old traditions. In many instances the result is chaos but for the most part it is working quite well, though not as fast in development as many would like to have it.

1040 U.S. Individual Income Tax Return Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q Is it true IRS will figure the tax and the retirement income credit for taxpayers this year?

A Yes, as long as certain conditions are met. Briefly, these are that your income is $20,000 or less and consists entirely of wages, salaries, tips, dividends, interest, pensions and annuities. You must also take the standard deduction.

The IRS will compute your tax if you meet these conditions. Fill in the proper lines as indicated on page 2 of the instructions and mail your return to the IRS Service Center. Any retirement income credit you are entitled to will also be computed where the proper lines on Schedule R are filled in. Be sure to attach Schedule R and other necessary Schedules to your Form 1040.

After we compute your tax, you will either receive a refund or bill for additional tax due.

Q Taxes were withheld from a part-time job I had last spring. I don't have to file a return so how do I get this money back?

A A return must be filed to obtain a refund. Attach W-2 statement showing the wages paid and taxes withheld to the Form 1040 you complete and send it to the Internal Revenue Service center for your area.

Q The address is wrong on my blue address label. What should I do?

A Make the correction right on the label and place it on the front of the form you file.

Q What's the change in the handling of crop insurance proceeds for farmers?

A A cash basis farmer is usually required to report income the year it is received. Under the Tax Reform Act of 1969, however, a farmer receiving insurance compensation for damaged or destroyed crops may elect to defer reporting the proceeds until the year following the loss if the income would otherwise have been reported in any tax year following the year of destruction or damage.

Q What's the maximum social security tax for 1970? I had two jobs and I think I paid too much.

A The maximum social security tax is $374.40 for 1970. If more than that was withheld from your wages because you had more than one employer last year, enter the excess on line 62 of your Form 1040. This is explained in the 1040 instructions.

Q Can you include the cost of a house hunting trip with other moving expenses for income tax purposes?

A Yes, under certain conditions. For details on moving expenses, send a post card to your IRS district office and ask for Publication 521 and a copy of Form 3903. This form must be completed and sent in with your return if you claim this deduction.

Q My mother just started collecting her social security pension. Does she have to pay tax on it?

A No, social security benefits are not taxable and do not have to be reported.

Q I drive several hundred miles a week going back and forth from my home to work. Can I deduct anything?

A Commuting costs are a personal expense and not deductible. However, you may deduct the state and local gasoline taxes you pay as a result of this and other personal driving.

A convenient table to help you determine the amount of your gas tax deduction may be found on Page 8 of the Form 1040 instructions. It is based on the tax rate in your state, number of miles driven and type of car.

Q Do the tax tables in the instruction book include the surcharge?

A No, after you have determined the amount of your tax from either the table or the schedules, you will have to add the surcharge. Use the surcharge tables in the 1040 instructions to determine the surcharge.

Q Where can I buy a copy of your income tax guide?

A A copy of Your Federal Income Tax, Publication 17, may be purchased for 75¢ and is sold at our offices. The Tax Guide for Small Business, Publication 334, costs 75¢ and is sold at our offices. They may also be purchased from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, 20402.

Folk Drama Group Visits M M Church

On Wednesday evening, April 7th, at 7:30 p.m., Michelson Memorial Church will host the nationally known Folk Drama Group, "Opus 5". Opus 5 is a drama-music touring group from North Central College which travels during vacation periods to colleges, camps, youth conferences, and church groups in the Middle West.

Three girls and two boys from Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin, make up the members of the group. Their repertoire runs the gamut from serious and contemporary, to discussion-type and humorous drama. Of special interest to youth is their large repertoire of Folk Songs.

On April 7th the group will present a drama preceded and followed by folk singing. The evening is of special interest to all Grayling and Crawford County youth, but is open to the general public's attendance and participation.

North Central College is in Naperville, Ill., and is a church related college with the United Methodist Church. Before appearing here in Grayling, the group will have appeared twice in Boyne City.
